Attention Providers!

Are you in Compliance?

Due to the changes to the waiver from the passage of HEA 91, relatives, who provide waiver services to a related participant, must disclose their relationship to the team and the Division.

Relative Providers (including providers or employees who are a guardian and/or a Power of Attorney) shall use the Relative Provider Disclosure form to notify the team and Division of the relationship and acknowledge compliance with the safeguards listed on the form. This form is attached to this E-mail.

The deadline to submit the signed Disclosure form is September 30, 2011.

In most cases, you may continue to provide services as a relative. Only certain limitations have been implemented for certain services, parents, guardians, power of attorney's, etc. To find out what applies to you, read the information on the Behavioral Health Division's website (http://www.health.wyo.gov/ddd/index.html).

Reminder

As a provider, it is your responsibility to read memorandums, provider manual updates, and other information published by the Division. Check our website frequently for information and call into the monthly provider support calls to ask your questions. You have a duty to ensure your organization is in compliance with Division requirements.

We have a webpage dedicated to information on HEA 91 and the services that may be provided by relatives, including parents, and other clarifications, FAQs and requirements. Here is the link: http://health.wyo.gov/ddd/relativeproviderinfo.html

Other memorandums are logged on our website, keep informed!

Thanks for your cooperation,

Wyoming Department of Health
Behavioral Health Division – Developmental Disabilities Programs office: 307.777.7115